9:00 – 11:15 a.m.

John C. Parker, Ph.D.
Yanon Volcani, Ph.D.
Steven Sparta, Ph.D.

11:30 am-12:30 pm

Panel Moderator: Neil Ribner, Ph.D., Alliant University
Panel Participants: Judge Lorna Alksne, Supervising Judge - Family Court
Joanne E. Callan, Ph.D., ABPP, Distinguished Professor, CSPP/Alliant University
Penny Angel-Levy, MFT

Drs Parker, Volcani, and Sparta will present the following topics: history of attachment; basic concepts of how a child develops adequate attachment to parents; neuro-substrates of attachments; dimensions of attachment; measures of attachment; gender issues/myths in the context of attachment research outcomes; and relevance of psychological attachment for high conflict evaluation and treatment.

Panel Members will respond to the presentations and discuss the potential impact on attachment of the rather dramatic economic/societal changes/pressures occurring in transitional families who are, at the best of times, seriously compromised in terms of stability, with attention to high conflict divorcing families.
